Human rights violations emerging from the Israeli military actions and operations in the Occupied Palestinian Territory (Prp.2): The HRC affirms that the Israeli settlement activities in the OPT emanate very serious violations of IH and HR of Palestinian civilians and children. It also demands the Israeli authorities to comply with the Advisory Opinion of the ICJ and terminate the illegal settlement activities in the OPT. The HRC urges Israel to withdraw its forces from the OPT and to guarantee the rights of the Palestinian people. The statement was adopted by a vote of 35 in favour, 13 against: France, the Netherlands, the UK, Japan, Germany, and others. The occupying power (Israel): The HRC instructs the occupying power not to construct new settlements and not to take any other action in the OPT. The resolution is meant to regulate the issue of property rights and to ensure that civilians in the OPT are able to live a normal life. The resolution is meant to ensure that all civilians in the OPT are able to live a normal life. The resolution is meant to ensure that all civilians in the OPT are able to live a normal life. The document is a report on the Human Rights Council's 33rd session, discussing the application of international human rights and international humanitarian law in the context of the occupied Palestinian territories, including Jerusalem. The report highlights the Council's resolutions and abstentions on various issues, such as the Israeli settlements, the rights of children, and the protection of cultural heritage in conflicts.

Key points:
- The report stresses the importance of ensuring respect for international human rights and international humanitarian law in the occupied territories.
- The Council adopted resolutions calling for the protection of human rights, the rights of children, and the protection of cultural heritage.
- Some member states, including the United States, abstained from voting on some resolutions, expressing reservations about the universality of international human rights.
- The report also discusses the application of international law in situations of armed conflict, emphasizing the importance of compliance with international humanitarian law.

Overall, the report reflects the Council's efforts to promote and protect human rights in the occupied territories while highlighting the challenges and limitations faced in achieving these goals.
